CreativeFuture Applauds the President for Signing the Music Modernization Act

On Thursday, President Donald Trump signed the Music Modernization Act of 2018 (S. 2334) into law – marking a significant win for musicians and creatives across the country.

LOS ANGELES, CA – October 11, 2018 – Today, the long-awaited Music Modernization Act of 2018 (S. 2334) was signed into law by President Donald Trump at the White House. This support shows the importance of strong copyright legislation for creatives who depend on copyright to make a living.

CreativeFuture CEO Ruth Vitale said, “This important law will bring justice to thousands of creatives who depend on their music content to make a living. The law brings necessary modifications to our copyright system and brings much-needed relief to musicians across the country. By signing this Bill into law, the President has taken a meaningful step toward protecting one of America’s most vital assets – our creativity.”

CreativeFuture would like to thank Senators Hatch, Grassley, Alexander, Feinstein, Coons, Kennedy, and Whitehouse for their work to bring this Bill to the Oval Office, along with all cosponsors and Senators for their support of this much-needed legislation. CreativeFuture would also like to recognize the large number of organizations and individuals who championed this effort – from the Recording Industry Association of America to the thousands of individual CreativeFuture members who lent their voice in support of this Act.

ABOUT CREATIVEFUTURE

CreativeFuture is a nonprofit coalition of more than 540 companies and organizations and more than 190,000 individuals – from film, television, music, book publishing, photography, and other creative industries. We're mobilizing our members to speak up about the value of creativity, the importance of copyright in protecting creativity, and the massive harm caused by the global theft of our creative works. Millions of creatives and thousands of businesses around the world depend on copyright to bring all of us countless moments of inspiration, learning, and joy. Our mission is to advocate for strong but appropriate copyright protections and to empower creatives to speak out against piracy and how it affects their ability to create and to make a living.
